WORKER INFECTION CONTROL BEST PRACTICES

This company has developed safety and infection control policies for the benefit of all staff, and expects all staff to fully cooperate in keeping this a safety and hazard free workplace.

By acknowledging this best practice you agree to:

- Obey OHS laws and follow company safety policies and procedures. We expect you refuse work that you reasonably believe will put you or others at risk.
- Always use the company's recommended personal protective equipment.
- Practice good hygiene, including regular hand-washing and other infection control techniques.
- Report any hazard you find to your supervisor.
- Seek first aid, and report exposures to infectious (or potentially infectious) diseases to your supervisor.
- Keep your vaccinations up-to-date, and keep a record of vaccinations.
- Stay home when you are ill.
